REDUCING FIXED OVERHEADS

Transaction Focus believe that there is a better way to control external sales support; enjoying really tight management of the entire operation with a future proofed solution. This can leave some existing structures in place but running leaner and at a much faster pace – ultimately delivering a far higher ROI all from the comfort of your chair!

No one likes to talk about 'outsourcing' it seems but it remains a well established and cost-efficient model, particularly when it's done right.

Through us it provides fast access to a highly skilled, flexible and experienced team. You can test it on a small scale or go all the way. The continuing recession means that all organisations have to reduce fixed costs. This option can increase revenue from new and existing clients and will keep you focussed on high profit potential prospects.

Our SalesRemote™ solution has a number of key advantages:

- Rapid sales team engagement and team ramp up
- Switch on/Switch off flexibility
- Hand-picked sector specialist professionals
- Protection against HR and other legislative issues
- Zero recruitment costs and free replacement costs.

We'd like to talk about putting this power in your hands...
